

ANNUAL GENERAL MEETING 2025

PARIS

INVITATION

"You are the light of the world. A city built on a hill cannot be hid. People do not light a lamp and put it under the bushel basket; rather, they put it on the lampstand, and it gives light to all in the house."

Matthew 5

INTRODUCTION

Eurodiaconia is a network of Christian churches and organizations committed to provide social and healthcare services while also supporting social justice. Through the voice of our 61 members from 33 countries, Eurodiaconia envisions a Europe where everyone is valued, focusing on strengthening diaconal social services and addressing root causes of inequalities, poverty, and exclusion.

Diaconia brings light into darkness, brings hope where it can seem lost and brings transformation through the love of every person as a beloved creation of God. However, it is often the case that when we are asked to measure the changes our services bring and that our advocacy achieves, we are asked to focus on financial savings or number of people reached rather than the quality of the services or the wellbeing of society and individuals as a whole. Measuring hope, or feelings of value and of being loved and cared for just does not give the same 'return on investment' in our current political climate. Yet we should not allow our distinctive Christian approach, our light, be put out. We need to continue to stress impact beyond that which is human-driven but promote that which is also God-driven. Nor can we hide our light and the impact our social action achieves for communities and for people who experience challenges. What diaconia brings to society and to individuals should never be hidden and never be undervalued.

This year's theme is a comprehensive exploration of Diaconia's multiple values beyond just economic statistics, stressing the significance of diaconal work and services to not only the economy, but also to well-being, community involvement, and social inclusion. The programme offers insight into the matter "Changing Societies, Changing Lives: The Impact of Diaconia in Europe" from different angles, discussing both theoretical and practical aspects of impact measuring. Workshops will cover specific topics such as how to successfully convey the impact of services, calculate the economic return on investment, and address the difficulties of non-economically measurable components. The relevance of a person-centered approach will also be discussed, as will the spiritual dimension of Diaconia's impact. The conversations will be focused on members' experience and skills, but they will also include external speakers with expertise in impact measurement.

This year's Annual General Meeting will be hosted by the Fédération de l'Entraide Protestante (FEP). FEP brings together and supports Protestant organisations operating in social, medical-social, and healthcare work in France. Its' 370 members (associations and foundations) provide care and assistance to over one million people in vulnerable situations. The Federation's mission is to contribute to a more just and inclusive society while combating all forms of violations of human dignity. Its spiritual roots and ethical values form the foundation of its work and give it meaning.

The AGM will begin with an evening service on 1st April and conclude with a business session around noon on 4th April. The days in between will include plenary sessions including panel discussions, study visits, workshops and time for networking.

Participants will have time to share experiences and form new relationships with other Eurodiaconia members while experiencing the French culture, by eating local cuisine, and if interested, participate in activities organised by our host, such as an afternoon walking tour to discover the bustling metropolis of France.

This annual event brings us together to foster trust and share knowledge, with discussions based on members' experience about the importance of a person-centred approach and the spiritual dimension of diaconia's impact.
